

HOW TO REMEMBER NAMES

Stop Making Excuses-Start Making Contacts!

How many times have you heard excuses (or given them) about NOT recalling someone's name? Isn't it time to DO something about that? Just how powerful will you be when you can introduce people confidently and be introduced to people, KNOWING their name?

Then how powerful will you be when you can recall other interesting information about them? How about their spouse's name, children, and just about anything you can imagine?

We can do workshops on site. We need about 16 people to make it work well. The more the merrier! (We can do it with fewer people; it just doesn't seem as impressive!)

People will be amazed at your uncanny ability to remember their name, which is the sweetest sound one can hear. If you are in sales, management, or customer service, this is a "must have" course!

This skill does so much for self-confidence. We see formerly shy people just open up like budding flowers. Suddenly they can express themselves! Without the embarrassment of forgetting who they're talking to, all sorts of things happen.

It's a fantastic Team Building experience as well, because not only is it an essential people skill, it brings people together and it's a lot of fun! Your people will be talking about this experience for a long time.
